The originator of this story 'If God Exists' said; "This is one of the best explanations of why God allows pain and suffering that I have seen." If God Exists. A lady named Sheryl went to a beauty salon to have her hair cut and her nails painted and trimmed. As the beauty salon lady worked on her hair, they began to have a good conversation. They talked about so many things and various subjects. When they eventually touched on the subject of God, the beautician said, "I don't believe that ...

If God Exists - Why So Much Suffering?

God is traditionally defined as all-powerful, all-knowing, and all-good. But if God is all-powerful, then surely He has the power to prevent pointless suffering. If God is all-knowing, He knows, infallibly, when suffering will occur. And if God is all-good, He will protect His children from pain and suffering (as any loving parent does).

5 Biblical Reasons Why God Allows Suffering - Beliefnet

It is not logically necessary that since God has not stopped evil and suffering in the world, that He cannot. God could be using suffering for His divine plan, in order to teach, for discipline, because people are free, etc. The existence of suffering does not at all mean that God cannot stop all of it. It means that He simply has chosen not to do so.

If God is all powerful and loving, why is there suffering ...

Make no mistake – Satan is a real enemy of our souls—but some of our pain and suffering is simply a result of living in a fallen world. Fate. There is no such thing as fate or happenstance because we have a sovereign, heavenly Father. The term, sovereign, means “far above, but able to reach.”.

Pain and Suffering: Why Do They Exist?

God is the author of good, but we make moral choices that result in evil. Does Evil Argue Against God? Atheists, skeptics and other critics of Christianity often argue against God on the basis of the reality of evil and suffering. “See,” they say, “since evil and suffering exist, God must not exist.”

How Can God Allow So Much Evil and Suffering? - Focus on ...

In “The Problem of Pain,” C.S. Lewis explains a second point about suffering. “God whispers to us in our pleasures, speaks in our conscience, but shouts in our pains: it is His megaphone to rouse a deaf world.” The painful truth is that God is more interested in our holiness than in our happiness.

If God Exists, Why Is There Evil?

This video gives a fairly clear answer to an age-old question: if God exists and he is all good and powerful, then why do people, especially the innocent, suffer? In his argument, Peter Kreeft basically says that the fact we even say “it’s not fair” is a proof that God exists, because it points to a pre-conceived notion of what justice is; one that we didn’t come up with, but have natural sense of.
